VISION

The Saskatchewan Aboriginal Women's Circle Corporation (SAWCC) unites Aboriginal women in Saskatchewan by taking a leadership role in responding to and addressing issues of interest and concern to Aboriginal women, their families and their environment.

MANDATE

The Saskatchewan Aboriginal Women's Circle Corporation is a not-for-profit provincial organization, a Provincial/Territorial Membership Association (PTMA) of the Native Women's Association of Canada, dedicated to promoting and enhancing the status of Aboriginal women. SAWCC works to unite and empower Aboriginal women through education, advocacy, research, and resource sharing. SAWCC addresses issues regarding but not limited to Violence Against Women; Child Welfare; Education, Employment and Training; Justice; Health; Marital Real Property; the Environment, Economic Development; Treaty Rights, Métis Rights, Aboriginal Rights, Community Resources, the Constitution as well as other vital issues brought forward by our members and constituents.

MISSION STATEMENT

SAWCC delivers responsive, accountable, effective and valued resources, education, programming, and advocacy at the local, provincial, national, and international levels.

VALUES

Women in Aboriginal communities are the keepers of the home fires and traditions; therefore our voice shall speak on issues affecting our communities.

WE HONOR AND VALUE:

- . The greatness of our culture, heritage, and nationhood,
- . the importance of healthy families,
- . the strength of inclusiveness,
- . the richness of diversity,
- . the power of human development,
- . the wisdom of holistic worldviews,
- . the vitality bestowed by wellness,
- . the generosity of giving voice to ourselves and others, and
- . the benefit of building strong relationships with individuals, groups, and organizations.

KEEP THE CIRCLE STRONG AND PASS OUR MESSAGE ON!

We need your ideas and support for a successful organization! Your support is important to maintaining a strong organization that speaks to the heart of Aboriginal women.
